Town Faces Record High Budget Of Four Million

Has Numerous Problems For Town Meeting

Voters of Andover in their double town meeting next March face a $4,000,000 budget, the largest in the history of the town. The exact figure will not be known until after the finance committee has gone over all of the department budgets.

At the present, however, the budget of departments, most of which are under the selectmen, totals $584,403., the school department, $607,992., board of public works, approximately $240,000., library, $40,000., and the amounts requested in the special articles $2,532,500. The board of health and Spring Grove appropriations will add about $9000 more.

Several large requests are made in the special articles which boost the total of this year's budget to its record high figure. Proposed new schools, town office building, addition to the library and articles for the improvement of Rogers brook run close to $2,500,000.

The warrant also includes proposals to study other forms of government for the town and a request to reduce the hours of firemen from 56 to 48 a week.

On account of the great amount of business to be transacted there will be two town meetings, the first Mar. 14 and the second Mar. 21.

Friday and Saturday, January 28th and 29th, are Andover's Mid-Winter Value Days. These Semi-annual bargain events are staged through the co-operation of Andover's merchants and present a genuine opportunity to make outstanding savings.

See Urgent Need To Start Improving Rogers Brook

Various articles will appear in the town warrant relative to the relocation and improvement of Rogers brook to relieve the dangerous conditions it frequently causes after a heavy rain.

Of the eight articles on this subject the first two, according to Selectman Sidney P. White, who is also chairman of the board of public works, are the most important.

Selectmen May Meet Semi-Weekly

The amount of business now coming before the board of selectmen and assessors is so great that it soon may be necessary for them to have more than one regular business meeting a week.

Since the middle of last December the members comprising both boards have been meeting almost daily, and on some occasions.

Firemen To Seek Shorter Hours

A group of firemen met with the selectmen Monday night to discuss an article in the town warrant asking for a change in the by-laws to reduce their hours from 56 to 48 a week. The selectmen made no decision but referred the firemen to the town meeting.

It is the contention of the selectmen that the article is illegal in the town warrant. As explained.

Request $162,500 To Enlarge Library

Plans for enlargement of the Memorial Hall library to give better service to the public will be presented to the town meeting in March in an article asking an appropriation of $162,500 for additions and interior alterations.

The suggested plan calls for an addition in front of the present building which would bring it out to the sidewalk, and another addition in the rear which would enlarge the Young People's room.

For a long time the board of trustees and the staff have been aware of the lack of necessary space in the present building. The board decided to prepare a summary of the library situation.

Termites Threaten Homes

Boston, Mass., Feb. 27.
There is an increasing danger of damage to houses in this area by termites.

The V.A. and F.H.A. have noticed an increase in loans made for termite treatment and for repairing damage done to the structure by this evil insect. Since termites can cause thousands of dollars' damage to property and even cause a house to collapse, home-owners are urged to take steps to protect their property. The cure for termites is expensive but prevention is cheap. The Government has information available free to home-owners who want to know more about this danger. To receive it, send a card to Termite Information, P.O. Box 145, Grove Hall Station, Boston, Mass.

SEE NEED TO START IMPROVING ROGERS BROOK

They call for an expenditure of $67,000 and would put the stream in an underground culvert as it passes through the business section of the town.

The other articles provide for various steps that should be taken now or in the future for further improvements along the brook. Mr. White believes the first two should be done this year.

In discussing the proposed improvements Mr. White said: "The board of selectmen feel quite strongly that the time has definitely arrived for the town to take positive steps to protect that section of Rogers brook which passes thru the business section of the town. The importance of making this downtown portion of the brook secure has been discussed by various persons and boards for some years but this is the first time that many of the concrete proposals have appeared on the warrant for voter action."

"All of Rogers brook thruout its entire length presents some problems we realize, and probably each little section would be considered the most pressing problem by the adjacent property owners. For this reason much work on this brook has been studied and estimated in a preliminary way and articles will appear in the warrant covering work on various reaches of the stream."

"This will enable the voters to learn the approximate costs of the work as a whole and help them evaluate the costs of the various sections, one against the others. The several articles on Rogers brook have been placed on the warrant in the order of what is considered to be a logical development for the brook in an over-all program."

The importance of making this downtown portion of the brook secure has been discussed by various persons and boards for some years but this is the first time that many of the concrete proposals have appeared on the warrant for voter action."

"All of Rogers brook throughout its entire length presents some problems we realize, and probably each little section would be considered the most pressing problem by the adjacent property owners. For this reason much work on this brook has been studied and estimated in a preliminary way and articles will appear in the warrant covering work on various reaches of the stream."

"This will enable the voters to learn the approximate costs of the work as a whole and help them evaluate the costs of the various sections, one against the others. The several articles on Rogers brook have been placed on the warrant in the order of what is considered to be a logical development for the brook in an over-all program."

"We would like to see all of the articles passed; but at this time we particularly wish to stress the importance of caring for that portion of Rogers brook which lies between the rear of the stores on the west side of Main street and Bartlett street. This section of brook runs under streets and buildings and through rear yards, being contained in old stone culverts or between old dry rubble retaining walls."

"The selectmen concur with the board of public works that this old type of construction, which has been in place for many years, is progressively weakening and is liable to fail at almost any moment during a flood period or during a spring thaw. We also agree that it is a sound policy to anticipate the damage of a possible blockage and backing up of the stream and make adequate provision against it before an emergency need arises."

"Whereas it has never been definitely established precisely how much responsibility the town might have for the care and maintenance of a stream such as Rogers brook, the selectmen feel that much legal wrangling can be avoided by removing the source of possible law suits."

"If one visualizes a stoppage in the flow of this stream due to a wall collapse in the vicinity of the F. W. Woolworth store, it is easy to imagine the minor flood that might occur swiftly in the back yards and basements of surrounding property. The clearing of such a stoppage would be a slow and difficult task, and much damage might occur before complete subsidence of the waters. While actual liability on the part of the town would have to be established in the courts, there certainly could be little doubt but that much criticism and unfavorable comment would be directed at the town government for being 'penny wise' in not urging the removal of such a potential threat to the central portion of our town."

"The selectmen realize that many costly items appear in this year's warrant and that all items probably will not be incorporated into the budget. However, this vital step to increase the security of the town's business district against flood damage appears to them as an item of extreme worthiness and one that should not be tossed aside in a wave of economy as 'too expensive'."

Sees Ted Williams Back With Red Sox

Members of the Andover Service club and their guests enjoyed an hour's story telling by Umpire William R. Summers of the American League at last Thursday night's meeting at the Andover Inn and heard him quote Jim Pearsall, Red Sox outfielder and close friend of Ted Williams, in the effect that the star hitter will be back in a Sox uniform next season.

Summers said that at a recent dinner Pearsall was one of the speakers and when the discussion about Williams came up Pearsall went on to say that Williams is now fishing, and while he is fishing it is no time to talk to him about baseball, but when he has his fill and Tom Yawkee offers him a contract Pearsall felt Williams would sign it.

Revealing another side of Williams, the speaker recounted a few incidents in which the ball player went out of his way to give financial assistance to deserving cases.

In answer to another question Summers, who saw Babe Ruth only in the last three years of his career, said he felt that Joe DiMaggio was the best all-around ball player he had ever seen and that Williams was the greatest batter with the best eye for the ball.

Most of his talk was about various humorous incidents in which well known baseball players and umpires were involved.

President John N. Cole presided at the short business meeting and the Rev. John S. Mosley, rector of Christ church, offered the blessing. William A. Doherty won the free meal and Irving Whitcomb introduced the speaker.

Architect's sketch showing the plan of the first floor with the proposed additions and alterations to the Memorial Hall library. The addition in front will extend from the present building to the sidewalk, and in the sketch is the lower section marked "Reading." Under this in the basement would be stacks for books. The second addition would be to the Young People's room shown in upper right in the rear of the present structure. Essex street is at the left.

TO ENLARGE LIBRARY

and to have the confirmation of existing needs supplied by a qualified person.

For this purpose Joseph L. Wheeler of Benson, Vt., a consultant in library buildings with years of experience as a practicing librarian, was asked to study building needs and to make recommendations.

Following his report, which has been sent to town officials and other local organizations, the board voted to have drawings made by the firm of Shepley, Bulfinch, Richardson and Abbott, architects and engineers.

These plans for extending floor space involve an addition to the front of the present building to extend to the sidewalk, with the library entrance opening at street level. This one story addition with glass front would serve largely as an informal reading area. Remodeling of the interior will permit valuable space within the present building to be put to better use. A large service desk nearer the street entrance will facilitate book return and allow the person in charge to supervise reading areas, open stacks and the new reference center. The adjusted room layout will bring about 8,000 more books down to the first floor level and make provisions for expansion of the collection to approximately 22,000 books on this main floor.

An underground stack directly underneath this addition is included in the plans to provide for future growth and to house those books which are less used but valuable.

Better handling of the materials by which libraries serve their users will be made possible in the enlarged work spaces shown on the plans.

The children's room area will be more than doubled by an extension at the back to the west. For years this room has been over-crowded during homework periods and heavy assignment periods. Seating space, at a premium, has been reserved for the boy or girl with an active need while the casual reader has been invited to cut short his stay. Through this extension to the rear, 30 more seats can be made available, with more space for the housing and use of reference materials than is possible at the present time. Western light, more easily aired reading space, and a quieter room with shelf space for 4,000 more books will be provided by this enlargement.

Total cost of these additions and interior alterations will be $162,500. An article has been inserted in the town warrant and will be presented for the vote at the town meeting.

Ballardvale Grocer Robbed By Gunman

George Cheyne, 60, operator of a variety store in Ballardvale was robbed of $50 and a panel truck by a masked gunman last Friday. The truck was later found abandoned on Lupine road near St. Augustine's cemetery shortly after midnight.

Cheyne had parked the truck in front of his store before he started for home about 10 p.m., when on Clark road a masked gunman rose from the back of the truck, his face covered with a white handkerchief, and placing a revolver against Cheyne's neck took the money and the truck. He drove away and turned into Dascomb road.

Many Students At P. A. Taking Part In Athletics

This winter the Phillips academy athletic department is carrying out one of the fullest and busiest programs in the history of the school's athletics.

With a winter term program consisting of eight different sports, the 754 boys at the prep school have no trouble in choosing a sport to participate in that they enjoy. Every boy in the school participates in the sport of his choice, either at the club or varsity level.

The schedule of outside contests with other schools and colleges is also one of the fullest and busiest in history.

The varsity basketball team has a total of 14 games scheduled this winter, eight of which are against college freshmen teams such as Yale, Harvard, and Dartmouth. Behind Captain Bill Agee and sharpshooter Art Hotchkiss the 1955 team hopes to excel last year's record of wins and losses. Coach Frank DiClemente is also counting on the height of Charley Meyer for much of Andover's rebounding action. Junior varsity basketball has scheduled a total of nine outside games, many to be played against high school varsities. Even freshman basketball at Andover receives much attention. The freshmen play ten games against other schools.

Andover's varsity and J.V. track teams are to see action this term too. The former has eight meets scheduled while the latter is running off seven. Six of the varsity's eight meets are to be held with college freshmen teams. Champion Steve Snyder in the 45-yard dash and Larry Westfall, Andover's ace broad jumper, are two of coach Steve Sorota's hopefuls for the 1955 season.

In swimming, P.A. has scheduled seven contests for its varsity, headed by diving star Larue "Twink" Catlett, and Allen Faurot. Coach Reagh Wetmore's team meets five college frosh teams during the course of the season. The J. V. swimming team has a schedule of four meets.

The varsity wrestling team also has a larger schedule than usual with a total of eight matches. The captain of wrestling this year, Pete Moses, and the coach, Dick Lux, are confident of the team's ability, despite an opening loss to the Springfield Freshmen. Junior varsity wrestling has a schedule of five matches, mostly to be fought against high school varsities.

Behind a strong first line of Bruce Smith, Captain Chris Crosby and Johnny McBride, the varsity hockey six have the fullest schedule of any sport on the hill, with a total of 15 games to be played. The last game of the season will be played against the varsity of Lower Canada college, and promises to be one of the most interesting of the season, aside from the annual thriller with Exeter, of course. The coach is Fred Harrison, newly-appointed athletic director of P.A. The J.V. hockey team has scheduled nine games for the winter term.

Varsity squash, a recently-added sport, has a schedule of nine games. Led by Captain Mait Jones and Fred Byron, the squash team hopes to have a better season than those of the past. The coach is Sam Wilson.

Varsity skiing has a schedule of seven meets, some of them being three and four-way interscholastic meets. Coach Peter McKee is counting on Captain Kent Rickenbaugh for much of the team support.

Boxing has been added as a sport in recent years. Under the direction of former Golden Gloves winner Bill Harding, the sport is as yet an informal one, holding no scheduled outside matches, but it is growing every year in popularity.

Altogether the complete winter athletic schedule consists of 103 outside-the-school contests, 31 of which are to be held away and the remainder at Andover.

The P. A. athletic department is well-prepared to carry out as large a schedule as it does, both in outside games and intramural contests, because of its fine facilities. The new Memorial gymnasium, erected in 1951, is the last word in functionality. The huge basketball floor is so large that three games can be played there at the same time. There are four full size basketball courts on it in all, and to these can be added the one still in use in the old Borden gym.

There are two swimming pools in the gym also, one for racing, and another, a 12-foot deep one, for diving. The gym's wrestling room is one of the largest in the country, and there is an enormous exercise room with a regulation ring for boxing in it. The gym's five squash courts are always in use. With a spacious locker room, modern showers, and large supply rooms, the athletic department is easily able to facilitate the administration and athletic needs of over 750 boys—a gigantic problem by adequate and proper facilities.

With the addition of various sports to the athletic program and the increased schedule the need for an organization to give complete newspaper coverage to the Phillips academy athletic contests became apparent.

An Andover Press club was formed under the direction of Frank DiClemente and Fred Harrison. It is made up and run by students. The president, senior Fred Byron, is editor-in-chief of The Phillippian, the school newspaper, who has worked out a system for covering all games. The club has proved itself a valuable service to the public relations department, the admissions department and to the school in general.

A record total of $170,233 was contributed to the Phillips Academy Alumni fund in the 1954 campaign according to an announcement made by Fletcher E. Nyce of Cincinnati, O., chairman of the fund.

Once again all statistics of the fund have shown significant increases over the 1953 results: the number of alumni donors has increased to 4,664; the parents to 257; and the total amount has risen by $27,000 over the 1953 total. The Andover Alumni fund continues as the top independent school alumni fund by a wide margin. The $170,000 total is practically double that of any other independent school's annual giving fund.

Punchard won its eighth victory of the 10 games it has played so far this season by topping Pinkerton academy of Derry, N.H., 62 - 39 before a small crowd at the local gym Monday night.

The visitors took a slight lead in the first period and held it for a few minutes in the second until the Blue Devils got going. After that it was a romp for the home forces.

Ed Dwyer and Bill Vickers were prominent in the Punchard attack, Dwyer scoring 23 points and Vickers 13. They were capably supported by their teammates, who, after the second period got under way successfully stalled the Pinkerton offense.

The Punchard Jayvees started off their game with a runaway first period and were never headed by the JV team from New Hampshire. Doug Anderson, a freshman, scored 13 points in the Punchard 44-21 victory.

Punchard had things pretty much its own way in taking a 56-39 victory from Methuen on the latter's court Friday night.

The Blue Devils jumped to an early lead and with Dwyer, Vickers and Fisher showing the way had a 29-20 spread as the first half ended.

Methuen rallied in the third period when both teams made only seven points each, but Punchard in the final quarter rolled up 20 more points while the Methuen team was getting 12.

The Methuen JV team won a close decision over the local Jayvees with the outcome in doubt right up to the final minutes of play.

Save A Million

The very comprehensive statement made before the Ballardvale PTA recently by George Grant, president of the Andover Taxpayers' association on the town's major financial problems and published in The Townsman last week, merits study by every taxpayer in the town.

He spoke as an individual and not as the head of the organization, but nevertheless, he presented an array of facts which show how thoroughly the various sub-committees of the association have gone into the matters of school housing, drainage, added water supply, a new town office building and other pressing matters for town meeting action.

Increasingly pertinent to the school situation is his comment upon the proposed new high school which credits The Townsman's suggestion as a method of saving the town $1,000,000.

"Early this fall," he said, "The Andover Townsman in an editorial proposed that the new high school project be abandoned, and that Andover expand its grammar schools to eight grades, eliminate the junior high school and give over that space to the growth of a four-year high school. The cost of expanding our grammar schools to put this program into effect would be about $500,000 to $800,000. The cost of a new high school about $2,000,000. (Ed. Note - The school committee has asked $1,750,000 for a new high school.) Financially this is an attractive program. . . Here is a plan that can save us $1,000,000 yet we have a committee working. . . to bring in plans to expand high or junior high facilities."

In view of that saving and its relation to the whole school building development it would seem advisable to have a thorough study made of the entire school set-up, preferably by a group of local citizens, including the new planning board, to develop a long-range plan for future expansion of the school plant.

The hit-or-miss system of the past few years, as Mr. Grant points out, has not solved anything.

The Bear's Choice

One of the brown bears kept at the Portland, Oregon, zoo dug his way out of his cage to freedom. He roamed the woods until he was discovered by visitors. His keeper had no trouble rounding him up. An offering of meat and the bear went back in his cage.

In the wilds bears hibernate at this time of the year when food is scarce, and sleep through the winter. But this bear gave up his freedom for a meager handout.

Man is often like the Portland bear. He fights his way to freedom from oppression and slavery and then gives up his hard won victory for a few pittance from government. Like the bear he accepts the dole of his keeper and the gate slams behind him with a jarring finality.

A reputation can be built overnight, but it takes a lifetime to develop a character.

Down the Years with The Townsman

50 Years Ago - January 1905

There were no sessions of school yesterday owing to the storm.

Thorpe and Joyce of Lawrence will be the entertainers at the concert and ball of the Y.M.C.T.A. in the town hall Feb. 10.

About 14 young ladies enjoyed a sleigh ride to Lowell Monday evening and had dinner there. W. R. Higgins' barge conveyed the party.

Some members of the Andover Girls' club had a taste of old Vermont last evening in the form of waxed sugar on snow.

Charles A. Hill, formerly of Andover, who has been working as an electrician for the Lawrence Gas Co., has been promoted to the superintendency of the electrical department, taking the place vacated by the resignation of Walter H. Coleman.

William Wheatley attended the Tucker murder trial at Cambridge last Saturday as the guest of lawyer James H. Vahey.

The storm that raged through New England Tuesday and Wednesday struck Andover with the brunt of its force. Traveling was very difficult. Electric cars were stalled most of the time and it was not until Thursday afternoon that they were running on schedule again. The steam trains were two and three hours late. Heavy wood sleds with four horses were called into service to break out the country roads, and in some places it was found necessary to shovel out the horses, they being unable to travel through the great drifts.

A bad chimney fire Wednesday called the department to the residence of Charles C. Blunt on Salem st. The run was an extremely hard one for the horses as the storm was at its height was a large quantity of snow on the ground making it necessary to walk nearly all the way. The fire was extinguished with a hand chemical.

25 Years Ago - January 1930

An enthusiastic audience filled George Washington hall Friday evening to hear the first Andover concert by Roland Hayes.

The Punchard Dramatic club provided an evening of fun for schoolmates and friends when they presented a three-act comedy, "The Arrival of Kitty" in the school hall Saturday night.

About 200 attended the annual Robert Burns anniversary in Fraternal hall Friday night under the auspices of Clan Johnston, 185, O.S.C. The grand march was led by Chief George Brown and Mrs. Brown.

The seating capacity of the public schools has been increased 640 in the past 10 years. During the same period there has been an increase of only 250 pupils. "If these figures are correct," we say editorially, "one wonders why there is now a cry about overcrowded conditions in the schools."

Gordon Chandler, 26, son of Judge and Mrs. Frederic N. Chandler, 148 Main st., was seriously injured Tuesday when struck by an auto which skidded on an icy car track in front of his home.

10 Years Ago - January 1945
Enthusiasm is mounting for the "Know Your Schools" rally to be held Feb. 7 under the joint sponsorship of the League of Women Voters and the Central PTA.

Joseph A. McCarthy was elected president of the Andover Taxpayers' association this week and appointed the following committee to make a study of the town's recreational problems: Wallace E. Brimer, Stafford A. Lindsay and Harry I. Emmons.

Several candidates have put a little interest into the coming election by taking out nomination papers in the town contests, but there are some candidates still unopposed.

At the annual meeting of the South church Wednesday the following committee was formed to look into the matter of a parsonage: Edmond F. Hammond, Roy E. Hardy, Edward A. Anderson, Mrs. Augustus P. Thompson, and Mrs. Frank Vedito.

At the annual meeting of Christ church Monday evening a resolution in appreciation of Mrs. Guy B. Howe's work in organizing and directing the Thrift shop was read by C. Carleton Kimball.

Plan To Improve Vale Skating Rink

The Andover Recreation committee is planning to improve the Ballardvale skating surface so that there will be skating there at all times when weather conditions permit.

The committee feels that the present black top surface of the rink draws the sun's rays and causes the ice to melt. There have been days when the skating has been good at 9 a.m., then water appears on the surface at 11 o'clock and no water at all at 2 p.m.

They expect to cover this surface with a white paint preparation as advised by engineers. This, it is believed, will deflect the sun's rays and allow them to maintain the ice much better than in the past. The weather recently has been so changeable that it has been difficult at times to maintain ice for any length of time.

FINAL PAYMENT

Town Treasurer Thaxter Eaton yesterday made the final payment of $4000 on the junior high school bonds issued 20 years ago.

Gets Prison Term In Girl Attack

Robert L. Corcoran, 26, of Melrose, a truck driver, was sentenced in superior criminal court at Salem Monday to two and one-half to three and one-half years in the state prison on a charge of intent to commit a criminal assault on a 17-year-old Andover girl. He was found guilty Friday in a jury-waived trial at which Judge Horace T. Cahill presided. The prosecution presented evidence relating to the government's contention that the defendant stopped his truck on Highland road about 5 p.m., Dec. 2, alighted, and after asking her for directions, followed her and struck her causing her to fall down. Lights from an approaching automobile caused him to flee. The defendant said he was driving his truck along the highway when he saw the girl fall and went to her assistance.

plained by Chairman J. Everett Collins of the board the selectmen have the power under Sec. 58A of the acts adopted in 1946 to determine what the hours of the firemen should be.

However, a vote taken by the 1949 town meeting reduced the hours from 70 to 56 and it was after this that it was found that the article was illegal, as the selectmen already had that power.

The selectmen are allowing this article to come before the town meeting as any article submitted in writing that has 10 or more signatures must be disposed of by vote of the town meeting.

The selectmen Monday also received word that a state survey will be made in Shawshen square for the purpose of installing traffic lights. This action was requested by the local board.

Town Manager Plan To Be Discussed

The Andover Taxpayers' association and the Andover Civic League are co-sponsoring an open meeting on the town manager plan, Thursday, Feb. 3, 8:30 p.m., at the Peabody House on Phillips st. The speaker will be James F. Shurtleff, city manager of Medford, and vice president of the International City Managers' association.

The Taxpayers' association has given this plan as well as an executive secretary type of town management considerable study and is currently sponsoring an article in this year's town warrant which would instruct the moderator to appoint a committee to study the present administrative organization of the town and the advantages, if any, of adopting a manager plan or an executive secretary type of administration, and to make a report of its findings and recommendations (together with any necessary legislation) to the next annual town meeting.

The Taxpayers' association is also planning an open meeting to be held on the evening of Feb. 22 in the Memorial hall of the town library on water and sewer facility planning. The speaker will be H. Taylor Worthen, sanitary engineer, Massachusetts Department of Public Health of Newbury.

SELECTMEN MAY MEET SEMI-WEEKLY

sions two and three times a day. In the past few weeks the various budgets and items for the annual town warrant have taken up much of their attention and they have had numerous morning and afternoon sessions as well as their regular Monday night meetings.

Most of the town warrant items are out of the way for the present yet the amount of regular town business has increased to such an extent that some regular mid-week day session seems to be the practical way to give the time necessary to transact business.

Besides the business done as selectmen the board has had a large increase in transactions as assessors. One indication of that is the increase in the permits for new homes issued during the past year, a total of 192 having been issued by the building inspector.

Many of the matters that come up for discussion both as selectmen and assessors require visits to various parts of the town so that first hand information may be obtained before action is taken.

Another matter for their early consideration is that area of the town which is being planned for re-zoning and which they plan to view shortly.
